ON THE ROAD To The Title

With no Super League games scheduled for the weekend, a number of clubs are in fact playing catch-up games from fixtures previously washed out. As usual Super Soccer previews those games, and will bring you a full round-up in next week's issue.

Central Coast v Parramatta Eagles

The Coasties were desperate for all three points against Sutherland, but while they lost on the weekend so did Eastern Suburbs and the Sharks. They couldn't face a more difficult task here against Parramatta though, and the Coasties will look to Nathan Byrn to add to his tally of goals which were scored with a flourish at the start of the season.

Parramatta were disappointed to go down to a rare home loss to the Macarthur Rams, but they know a win here will see them back into that top five.

Super Soccer tip - Parramatta Eagles

Eastern Suburbs v Ryde City

Like the Coasties clash with Parramatta, this game could have a huge bearing on proceedings at the bottom of the table. Eastern Suburbs continue to struggle despite some better form of late, and with them being two points behind the Coasties a win here is a must for them.

Ryde have nothing to play for now, unless you count pride, a place in the team, personal satisfaction...

The Gunners will believe they can make it win number five for the season here, and they might not be far wrong.

Super Soccer tip - A draw

Macarthur Rams v Fairfield Bulls

This game will be a huge test for two teams who have dropped off after great starts to the season. It was a cracker last time they met at the Nineveh Field, and this one could be the same.

Macarthur are still in third but could slip below the Bulls on goal difference if they lose here. A win however would see them looking pretty good to seal third spot at the end of the season.

Fairfield may have hit form again after demolishing the Sharks 5-0, but they will find a stiff Macarthur defence much tougher this time. It's so tight from fourth to eighth a win is vital for the Bulls, but we think...

Super Soccer tip: A draw

Super League action started on the Tuesday night, as the Central Coast took on the Sutherland Sharks in a vital clash for the two struggling clubs.

Central Coast 0 Sutherland Sharks 0

In a game between two of the bottom three it was always going to take that one bit of magic to unlock the defences on a cold night at Pluim Park.

Unfortunately for the surprisingly large crowd on a Tuesday night, neither team was able to come up with that elusive play, leaving both teams to pick up a point that is probably more valuable to Sutherland than their hosts.

Defences dominated in a game where neither goalkeeper had a great deal to do, although after 15 minutes Coasties goalkeeper Gary Meier was helpless as a shot from Cord Tolson, one of the more impressive players on the night, smacked the underside of the crossbar before coming out.

Before that most of the possession had been with the Coasties, but after Tolson's effort the Sharks picked up. Neither team had a chance after the early scare to the Coasties, although an in-swinging corner by Sutherland did cause problems after 37 minutes.

Two minutes later a Justin Norman effort for the Coasties was deflected wide, then on the stroke of half time a lovely through ball found Nathan Byrn, who produced a good strike on goal only to be thwarted by Sutherland's Flavio Novaro.

It was getting colder by the second, and the fans hopes' that the game would prove some excitement in the second half were dashed.

The Coasties again started well and had a couple of early efforts, but the game really had no pattern. The most noteworthy effort came from the Coasties Peter Preston, who shot straight at Novaro when under pressure with the out-side of his right boot, then the Coasties captain was again superbly denied by Novaro after he cut inside from the left and fired a shot goal-wards. It was the best moment of the match.

Nathan Byrn had a good effort just wide with two minutes remaining, but a draw was a fair result. To pick players out is difficult, but two defenders, one from each team caught my eye.

The Coasties Jon Paul Bourke looked solid in defence, and the youngster on loan from Northern Spirit will be a good acquisition. For Sutherland the lanky figure of Adam Daley looked awkward at times but managed to win nearly every ball in the air, as well keeping it tight as the last line of defence.

Not much to write or cheer about, but a point at this stage of the season could well prove crucial come the end of Round 22.

Coasties boss Allan Bourke was disappointed his team had been unable to snatch the win, but feels his young team can, and indeed have, come along way. He did say however he hoped that everything didn't come down to the last game of the season - when the Central Coast play...Eastern Suburbs.

Central Coast: Meier, Drysdale, Demery, Binskin, Preston, Bennett, Byrn, Norman, Sontag (Wells), Smith, Bourke

Sutherland Sharks: Novaro, Daley, Harris, Richardson (Pillay), Bideau, Markopoulos, Tedesco, Hobbs, Giraldo, Tolson, Porter (Karanasos)

Best for Central Coast: Jon-Paul Bourke

Best for Sutherland Sharks: Adam Daley

Yellow cards - None

Round 19 review

Bonnyrigg White Eagles 1 Blacktown City Demons 3

Blacktown welcomed back Steve Berry after his superb season with Sydney United, but it was another midfielder who helped his team to a valuable three points against the Bonnyrigg White Eagles.

Peter Sermanni, a player who doesn't catch the eye, made sure every tackle was his and every ball was played to a team mate that saw his performance lift just as Bonnyrigg looked to get back into the game at 2-1 down. Add to that an outstanding performance by the flu-ridden Damien Foxe, and two goals of sheer class by Jason Bennett, and you have the ingredients of a performance that saw Blacktown have no bad players on the day.

Bonnyrigg in contrast had as much of the ball as Blacktown, but a strike force of the classy Joe Bruni and an ineffective Ray Younis missed the few chances that came there way.

The game kicked off at a cracking pace, and in a finals-type atmosphere there was no holding back by either team. The first chance fell to Younis, who's effort on 9 minutes was easily saved by Fernando Greco in Blacktown's goal.

Four minutes later the lively Bruni went on a superb run before firing wide, then a Paul Richardson free kick to the near post was well saved.

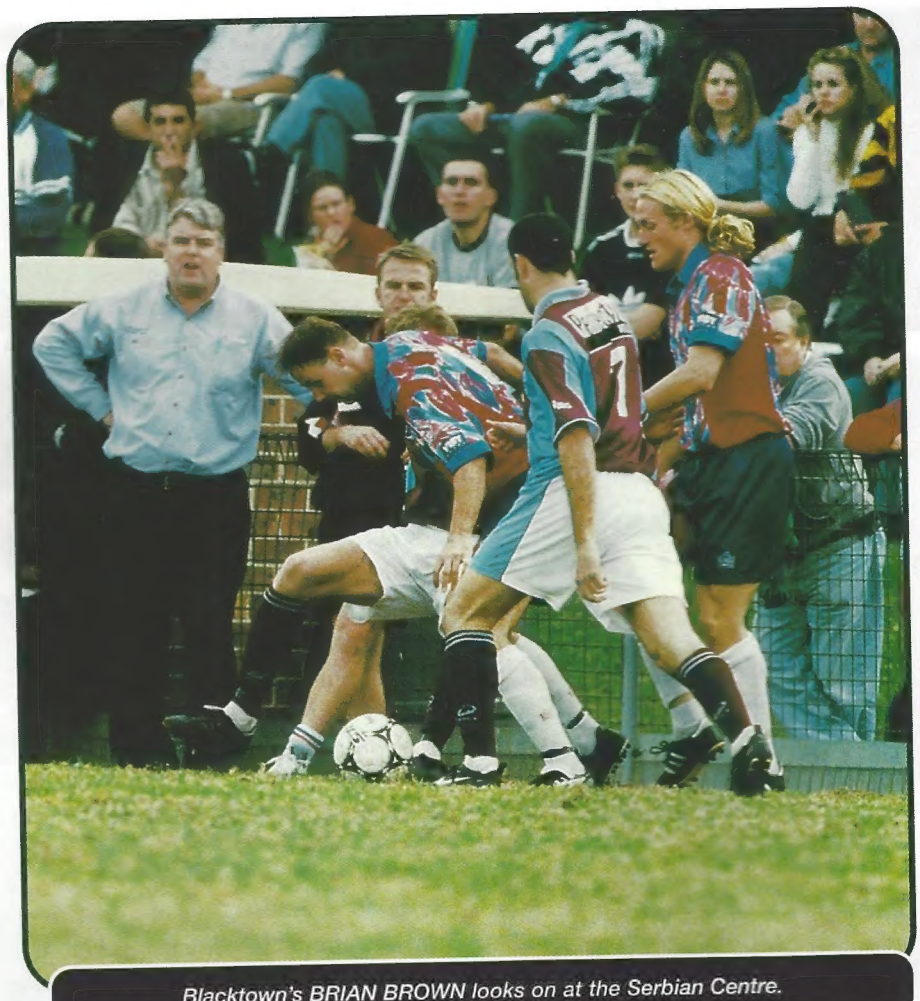
With their first real effort on goal though Blacktown took the lead. Great work on the left by Damon Langan saw him whip a cross to the near post, and Bennett was both quick enough and alert enough to get in front of both his marker and the goalkeeper to glance a header into the goal.

The goal came after 24 minutes, and only minutes later Bennett again looked dangerous but was crowded out by a posse of defenders.

Bonnyrigg deservedly got back into the game on 36 minutes though, when a corner from the right, which had only come about because of a sloppy back pass, was bundled over the line by big defender Borislava Dragas. A number of players hindered Greco, who was unable to collect, although the majority of them appeared to be his own players.

With five minutes to go before the break some great work by Blacktown, which saw a nasty foul by James Warburton who was correctly booked after referee Sinon Micallef played the advantage rule, should have seen them go in 2-1 ahead. Berry squared the ball to Damien Brown, but his shot from 12 metres out screwed off the side of his boot and went wide.

Right on the stroke of half time though Blacktown did get a goal. It turned out Brown had only being adjusting his sights with his previous effort, as a goal of class put Blacktown 2-1 up. Bennett was the provider this time, and he turned superbly before tipping the ball through to Brown. He skipped past his challenger befor tucking the ball past the onrushing Mladen Kos with some ease.



Blacktown's BRIAN BROWN looks on at the Serbian Centre.

The referee's whistle went as soon as Bonnyrigg restarted, with Blacktown going in at the break knowing that even a draw would be a good result for them.

As expected, Bonnyrigg came out firing after the break, and in the first ten minutes piled forward without getting an effort on target. Much of that had to do with the afore-mentioned Sermanni, who seemed, without ever breaking into a sprint, to be wherever the ball was. Bonnyrigg did manage an effort on 57 minutes though, when substitute Paul Dee, who caused problems for Blacktown with his direct approach, shot just wide.

After 58 minutes Bonnyrigg could have so easily got back on level terms, twice hitting the cross bar in the space of 10 seconds. First, Robbie Gomez's little chip over Greco bounced back off the bar, and when Mark Racker thundered a shot goalwards from close range it looked a goal all the way.

Somehow Greco managed to parry the ball out though, and when the ball came back it once again hit the cross bar, clipping the top of the woodwork before going over.

Even worse for Bonnyrigg was six minutes later Steve Riches was pulled up for a foul, but his man still managed to cross the ball which was prodded in from close range., The referee's whistle had definitely gone though, so instead of a goal the White Eagles had to settle for a free kick.

To prove all things conspired against the home side, Blacktown cleared the free kick, and went up field and scored to wrap the match up.

A ball from the left found Jason Bennett on the right, and his finish on the half-volley was as good as you will see. The celebrations indicated exactly what had happened - Blacktown were 3-1 up, 25 minutes to play and the Minor Premiership in their own hands.

As Bonnyrigg pushed forward Bennett again did well, and beat Kos before crossing for an unmarked Angelucci. It should have been 4-1 but the fiery forward, who had a good tussle with Dragas, side-footed over from close-range.

With ten minutes Gomez again set up Dee, and his shot was well stopped by Greco.

That proved to be the last chance for Bonnyrigg, who performed well on a day when their visitors took their chances and defended well.

Blacktown Coach Brian Brown was delighted after the game, and felt that the two teams on display were definitely the best in Super League. He was pleased with the way his team had held out Bonnyrigg when 2-1 up, and was delighted that his team had done the double over the White Eagles - something he felt very few teams would have done in the last few years.

Bonnyrigg White Eagles: Kos, Racker, Dragas, Richardson, Harding (Dee), Ghisso (Xuereb), Gomez, Green, Bruni, Warburton, Younis (Mancino)

Blacktown City Demons: Greco, Lowe, Foxe, Holst, Brown, Langan (Langan), Berry (Yates), Sermanni, Riches, Bennett, Angelucci (Cleary)

Fairfield Bulls 5 Sutherland Sharks 0

It was a horror day for the Sharks who not only were defeated 5-0 by the Fairfield Bulls, but had four players booked plus David Tedesco sent off after two yellow card offences.

After a steady start by both teams Fairfield scored at regular intervals during the game, and their prolific front-pairing of Borg and Hoenselaars netted one apiece to keep up among the Super League top goalscorers.

The first goal came after 36 minutes, when Michael Vrankovic made a long run out of defence, before crossing from the right. In the middle was the unmarked Hoenselaars, who finished nicely on the volley.

That was the way it was at half time, but just a minute after the re-start it became 2-0. Darren Iocca received the ball just outside the penalty area with his back to the goal, but he turned superbly and fired home for a smashing finish.

A minute later the game was over for the Sharks, as Matthew Borg combined well with Hoenselaars. Borg picked out his strike partner perfectly, and when Hoenselaars returned the favour Borg was there to finish well to make it 3-0.

After 53 minutes the rout continued when Michael Vrankovic scored with an expertly taken 25 metre free kick, and with just 13 minutes left Chris Giometti ran down the left before picking out Robbie Pirecca who finished from close range to make it 5-0 to the Bulls.

Parramatta Eagles 0 Macarthur Rams 1

The Macarthur Rams kept in third spot after inflicting a rare home defeat on the Parramatta Eagles, who slipped to eighth because of the result.

The only goal of the game came after just 3 minutes, and the Parramatta defence were caught napping as Jimmy Ashner found himself in open space with only Jason Holmes to beat. Ashner did just that, tucking the ball away to put the visitors into the lead.

The rest of the half was typified by misplaced passes and misunderstandings, although it was the Rams who settled down and enjoyed the lions share of possession in the last fifteen minutes of the half.

The second half was much better for the Eagles, although they were unable to find a way through the stiff Rams defence. A switch saw Anthony Mittiga come on, and he caused Macarthur problems with his running down the left-hand side. There were few chances for either team as the game came to a close, Grant Bard coming closest for the Eagles with a shot easily saved by John Crawley.

Bankstown City Lions 3 Central Coast 0

Bankstown are in fifth spot after a comfortable victory over the Central Coast. The win was secured despite the sending off for two bookable offences by Michael Hawrysuik, although that came with just 14 minutes remaining.

It was a bad day all round for the Coasties, who lost captain Peter Preston after just 14 minutes with injury, the midfielder being replaced by Nathan Byrn.

The Lions got off to a good start when a header by Mendo Lozevski went close

PRIZE WINNERS

Ten lucky Super Soccer readers who correctly identified Colin Luff as the leading goalscorer in the Super League have won a family pass each to this weekend's Soccer Expo at the Sydney Showgrounds.

Tim Britton, Ashfield; Geoff Costello, Oak Flats; Kerrie Gosling, Cromer; Declan Gannon Hilario, Waverley; Adrian Islas, Bossley Park; Marc Kacen, Vaucluse; Simon Meincke, St Clair; Bill Papas, Northbridge; Rebecca West, Richmond; Brad Wiblen, Bronte.

Ten runners-up also won a double pass to the Expo on Friday.

after just three minutes, but seven minutes later the Coasties looked menacing only to be denied. Just a minute later the Lions made it 1-0, as Lozevski snapped up his nineth of the season as he followed up a shot which Gary Meier was only able to parry into his path.

The Coasties were in real trouble just nine minutes later when a great through ball found Stewart Van Bentum, who finished well to make it 2-0 to the home side.

The Coasties came close just three minutes later.

After 32 minutes exciting youngster Clint Smith had an effort on target that was held by Lions goalkeeper Tom Briskovski, and the teams went in at half time with the score the same.

Any hopes the Coasties had of getting back into the game were dashed just three minutes after the re-start, as Hawrysuik found Lozevski from a thrown in, who passed to Van Bentum who in turn found Nabil Codmani, who drilled it the ball home to seal a final score of 3-0 to Bankstown.

Canterbury Marrickville 3
Eastern Suburbs 1

Canterbury Marrickville remained in the hunt for a top five spot after defeating the struggling Eastern Suburbs 3-1 at Henson Park.

Two goals for Nick Bozevski sealed the win for the Berries, although a late goal by substitute was needed to give the home side some breathing space.

Eastern Suburbs were competitive throughout the match, and started brightly when Naoki Imaya shot straight at Steve Tolios in the Canterbury Marrickville goal.

The impressive Zoran Ilic had a couple of efforts on 12 and 22 minutes, before Bozevski scored his first. A through ball from Talcevski found the striker, who did everything correct in making it 1-0.

Five minutes before the interval Eastern Suburbs defender Mal Nicholls fired a thunderous shot just over the bar, but his team did draw level on the stroke of half time.

After collecting a through ball Imaya coolly rounded the goalkeeper before slotting home.

Both goalkeepers were tested in the second half, as Adam Mark saved a close-range effort from Ilic on 50 minutes, then Peter Pullicino failed to hit the target on both 54 and 60 minutes.

Central Coast's PETER PRESTON

In between Bozevski had beaten the offside trap but failed to finish, but on 73 minutes a goal-mouth scramble from a corner saw him slot home his and his team's second.

Seven minutes later it was all over as Matthew Percy broke through and Kategiannis slotted home, and with 2 minutes to go George Maglis was brought down in the penalty area, but Eastern Suburbs' squandered the chance when Max Sevares fired wide from the penalty spot.

Ryde City 1
Leichhardt Tigers 3

Leichhardt put two home defeats behind them when they defeated the Ryde City Gunners 3-1 at Wentworth Park.

Striker Steve Karavatakis added another two goals to give him nine in a very short season, and Eric Hristodoulou netted his first for the campaign.

Karavatakis netted his first on 14 minutes, but Adam Peatey equalised for Ryde after 32 minutes. All the goals came in the first half though, as Hristodoulou netted with five minutes to go before the break, and just three minutes later Karavatakis made it 3-1.

Neither team were able to add to their tally in the second period, and their win sees Leichhardt move back into that fourth spot.

The latest people to use the facilities at Valentine Sports Park, in addition to a number of lower division re-arranged matches, are both the Olyroos and the Uniroos.

The Olyroos are using the headquarters of the New South Wales Soccer Federation from the 5th to 17th of June, while the Uniroos, the Australian University team, are there from the 6th to the 10th of June.

The New South Wales Soccer Federation is pleased to announce it's support of the David Carty and Peter Forsyth Memorial Cup, which will be held between August 15 and September 19.

The Cup has been established to help raise funds to support the young family of Peter Forsyth, and Police Legacy, after the tragic deaths of Constables David Carty (1997) and Peter Forsyth (1998).

The competition, in addition to featuring some of the top clubs in the National Soccer League, will also feature three of the New South Wales Soccer Federation's Super League teams in the Blacktown City Demons,

The following weekend Marconi and Sydney Olympic will face the winners of those two games at Marconi Stadium, while up in Newcastle the Breakers will play Northern Spirit.

Fraser Park has done remarkably well to go from Division 4 straight into Division 2, and currently sit at the top of table. Coach Tony Dunn is not resting on his laurels though, and has recently added three ex-Fairfield Bulls players to his ranks.

Striker Sasho Talevski was the Bulls leading scorer last term, but has been unable to get a starting spot this season due to the form of Matthew Borg and Mark Hoenselaars, while goalkeeper Angelo Rodic has also joined the club.

Completing the hat-rick is Jeff Suzor, who like Talcevski was unable to command a regular first team spot. Dunn is also hopeful of signing a utility player from a struggling Super League club, so watch this space!

Congratulations to Paul Henderson for being nominated for a medal as Goalkeeper of the Year in the 1999 Ericsson Cup awards. It is a great honour for the ex-Sutherland Sharks custodian, especially in his first year in the National League.

Likewise, young striker Simon Catanzaro looks to have a bright future after being nominated for the Youth Player of the Year in the North Zone. The New South Wales Institute of Sport striker had a great season, as did the rest of the team, and the popular player will undoubtedly be catching the eyes of some of the scouts.

One player who definitely caught the eye of the scouts, is NSW youngster Jason Culina. He has just signed a 5-year deal with Ajax of Amsterdam, for a cool million dollars a year. Culina is just 18...

John LAVIN interview

While the battle at the top of the Super League table intensifies each week, at the bottom a number of clubs are equally as desperate to pick up results. Super Soccer's PETER SMITH took the time to chat to a coach from one of those clubs, Sutherland's John Lavin.

John Lavin is the latest in a long line of Sutherland coaches with one thing in common. Of the 15 names who have steered the Sharks in their 63 year history nearly all have been long serving players for the club, had a long connection with football in the area, or in Lavin's case, both.

This policy has also applied to the selection of players over the years with Sutherland rarely dipping into the transfer market, preferring to call upon the vast number of young local players. It is a policy that Lavin supports. "I have always believed in the importance of developing local players. In my experience it is important to give young players a go, but of course,

I still need to be cautious about the need to develop confidence as well as experience. So I try not to overburden them with expectation when they appear in First Grade", said Lavin.

Since moving to Australia in 1969 at the age of 22 Lavin has lived in the area at nearby Gymea and has regularly been involved in Sutherland Shire football either as a player or coach. Born in England, a promising young career was just flourishing as an apprentice with West Ham when family commitments cut short any chance of seeing out his apprenticeship. There were later spells with Leyton Orient and then the semi professional clubs Hounslow Town and Willseden United before the move down under.

Upon arrival in Australia the young midfielder was keen to take the field again and his new local team then coached by Mike Johnson jumped at the opportunity. Soon the young Lavin was playing alongside talents such as Col Bennet, Steve Perry and Alan Maher, all future Socceroos.

In 1971, Lavin's second season with the club, Sutherland were promoted to the 1st Division where they have remained in an unbroken spell to this day. The longest such spell in the history of the NSW Federation's top flight.

Lavin stayed with Sutherland for a total of 6 seasons helping the team establish themselves in this highly competitive Division. This was followed by a two year spell at Balgownie (which metamorphorasised into Wollongong City for the second of these two seasons) and it was here that the budding coach came under the guidance of his most influential mentor, former Welsh International Herbie Williams. "Herbie had a tremendous knowledge of the game, he was a seasoned professional and a great role model for me and the other players".

The following year John was back at Sutherland as assistant coach (and player) to Pat Hughes and later Johnny Watkiss, both former Socceroos. It was here that Lavin honed his coaching skills, before eventually leading a team himself, that being local outfit Port Hacking, then competing in Division 3. His four years at Port Hacking saw plenty of success notably a Minor Premiership victory.

"My time at Port Hacking was a great experience for me. It allowed me to test my theories about the game, and give me the confidence to pursue my coaching aspirations at another level", he said.

JOHN LAVIN looks on at Seymour Shaw

JOHN LAVIN in action

Incidentally the President of Port Hacking at the time was none other than current Federation President Peter Gray.

All the while Lavin, despite being in his mid thirties, was still kicking a ball around the park and in 1982, he along with Sutherland legend Allan Griffiths were coerced back into the top flight with Avala. After 2 successful seasons, Lavin decided to hang up his boots at this level and it proved to be a timely decision as the following year he landed the Sutherland coaching job.

"I knew at least 50% of the Sutho players from my time there previously and this certainly made the experience all the more interesting. Probably the only downside in my spell as coach was telling a few of the older players that they would have to be released as the club was re-enforcing its youth policy at that time", says Lavin.

This spell was highly successful and saw the club only narrowly miss out on automatic promotion to the NSL in 1985 when Canterbury claimed top spot. A remarkable 6-5 loss to the Berries sealing their fate in the penultimate round. The following season was even better with a memorable come from behind Grand Final victory against hot favourites Melita Eagles. This team moulded by Lavin was made up almost exclusively of local juniors and most of the team went onto have long and fruitful careers with the Sharks.

At this point Lavin decided to take a short break from the game to concentrate on his growing business interests but this particular short break turned out to be ten years. But it wasn't a complete break as this spritely midfielder could still be seen competing in the local Premier League at the age of 50.

In 1998 with the Sutherland club going through a period of considerable transition and with an experienced leader needed, John Lavin was once again given the duties of the First grade coach.

I asked John what plans he had for the future. "I'm hoping that the club's commitment to developing young local players will pay dividends", he said.

There are a lot of talented youngsters in the junior ranks both here at Sutherland and in the junior (Sutherland Association) rep teams, and I'm sure that with time these kids will come into their own. At the moment I'm concentrating on the short-term goal of improving my current players abilities and with that should come the results.....we are missing a couple of older heads whose experience could help to bring the younger fellows on".

While Sutherland hasn't been a serious threat to the leaders this season, Lavin is committed to developing his squad. Whether this commitment will result in the formation of a team to be reckoned with remains to be seen, but if John Lavin's dedication and passion for the game count for anything, Sutherland will once again be a team to watch in the future.

GUEST COLUMN

by Frank Farina

What a great six weeks of football we have in store for those of us lucky enough to live in Sydney!

This weekend we've got the Socceroos V. FIFA All Stars match at Stadium Australia, and next month, my favourite English team - not my favourite overseas team - Manchester United are visiting; plus, of course, there's the Soccer Expo at the Sydney Showgrounds at Homebush Bay.

I'm looking forward to this weekend's match and seeing the cream of Australian football talent together for the first time since November 1997. Back then, though, we were without Paul Okon who was out injured and I rate him as the most talented player we've produced to date. Not that I'm saying Paul would have necessarily made a difference to the result on that fateful night which will go down, over time, in Australian footballing folklore as 'the night we came so close to making it to the World Cup'!

The thought of Bosnich, Okon, Zelic, Vidmar, Lazaridis, Kewell, Viduka and others all on the pitch together is not only a 'dream team', but also a strong statement on the current depth of our football talent.

While seeing the greatest club team in the world will be a real treat also, I'm disappointed that it's the Socceroos who are playing them. There are lots of arguments either way, but I take the view that we've progressed beyond where our national team should be playing a club team - regardless of how good that club team is. I would have preferred to have seen a 'Chairman's XI' or a National League Select squad, but I also recognise that this may not have been as attractive a proposition for the private entrepreneurs behind the tour.

Those of us who have been around in Australian soccer long enough know that once upon a time the main opposition we could get for our World Cup preparation was club sides. In fact, when I first joined the Socceroo squad in 1984 when I was 19, we had a series of games against club sides - one of whom was Manchester United.

In the intervening period, our development programs, our continuing export of talented players, our performances in World Youth Cup tournaments, the signing of an Australian player from suburban Fairfield in Sydney as a star recruit in the world's best club team (Bozza), and the return of successful overseas players such as Eddie Krncevic, David Mitchell, Graham Arnold and Robbie Slater, are all part of the evolution of football in Australia which has helped us gain respect and recognition on the big stage of world football.

As well as enjoying these games, and a few rounds of golf, I'm also working at building the Marconi squad for the next national league season. We had a topsy-turvy season where many critics were quick to write us off when we went through a very bad patch of injuries, but we finished up with a sound position in the Top 6. Obviously, we all want to improve on that and there will be changes to the squad. Part of that means having a look at some of the local talent within NSW and I'll be out and about at Super League, and some other, games over the next few weeks.

In the meantime - GO THE SOCCEROOS!

ROUND FOURTEEN SUMMARY

BATHURST BEAT DOLPHINS IN THE WEST SAINTS LOSE DERBY AT ROCKDALE, STANMORE WIN AGAIN

Saturday's action saw Bathurst back in the winning mood after their successful smash and grab raid at Illawarra the previous weekend.

They were confronted with a Manly side who were depleted by injuries and a recent spate of losses, both of which have sapped the confidence of a side that still holds a handy lead at the top of the table.

The Dolphins welcomed back Danny Townsend to the ranks after a spell in the colours of Ericsson Cup club Sydney United, including a goal in the Grand Final the previous weekend.

Townsend joins his brother in the team and has delayed surgery on a niggling groin injury to help Manly who have been struggling for numbers on the park. He expects to play just a handful of games for the club this season before putting himself under the scalpel.

He was involved in the first good move when he took the ball down the left, crossed into Matt Godwin in the box who flicked it onto Adam Townsend who, in turn, produced a shot on target that the keeper dealt with.

In the 11th minute Bathurst's Adam Collins had a good shot on target, but it was tipped away by the Dolphins keeper Rocca Papalia for a corner.

A minute later Scott Mutton had a sharp shot from just inside the box which was blocked by defender Greg Walley and it was evident at this stage that Bathurst were hitting their straps.

A minute further in and a blunder by Papalia saw him lose possession and it was a surprise that Mark Rooke was unable to capitalise on the error, instead putting the ball wide fromoutside the box when, with more care, he could have chanced his arm from much closer.

In the 26th Damian Rosenthal turned and fired in a strong shot on goal which was well saved by Matthew Baillie.

In the 48th minute Mutton received the ball just outside the box, turned and shot from a tight angle, but was denied by the keeper and his follow up effort went in past defender Matt Bastian whose desperate attempt to clear saw the ball deflected into the net.

Manly came back with a 51st minute cross from Adam Townsend from the left which Danny Barbalace headed towards goal but which was saved by the keeper at his feet.

Then, a minute later, Matt Bastian's free kick from 40 yards out, just right of centre field, sailed over the keeper for a spectacular goal which levelled the scores.

In the 79th Brad Gallard had a clear shot on goal, after good lead up work by Collins and Rooke, but Greg Walley somehow blocked it on the line.

A minute later Scott Mutton grabbed the winner by keeping a cool head in putting away a penalty after a handball had been spotted by the referee. Mutton had missed one the previous week, but this time made sure.

Manly's best player on the day, Godwin, sent a left footer just over the top of cross bar in the dying stages of a close contest that was, in the final wrap up, deservedly won by the home side.

Although Manly had plenty of possession and created many opportunities Bathurst played controlled, mistake-free soccer unlike their opponents who at times looked a little disorganised.

Damian Rosenthal played the full game but did noticeably struggle with a recurring hamstring injury. The return of Danny Townsend was a positive for the team but even he struggled towards the end after not playing a full game of soccer in over two months as he was used mainly as a replacement at Sydney United.

While defender Kelvin Foster will be out next week, suspended, after receiving another yellow card, the side will have striker Dean Harding back and Gregg McKittrick returns to the squad after two months on the sideline with a severe knee injury.

Penrith had to face two games in as many days with the first ordeal against Illawarra Lions at Andrews Road on Friday night.

In early exchanges both sides created chances with Bob Casserly going close for Penrith in the 23rd and Panthers' keeper Luke Martin saving well from a Lions' shot two minutes later.

Penrith opened the scoring in the 41st when Daniel Lownds pounced on a long ball from sweeper Ben Wright who had combined with Bob Casserly in the approach work.

Penrith survived a scare in the 54th when the ball had to be lifted off the line by a defender, but it was still the Panthers in the ascendancy and Lownds again went close in the 66th with a delicate chip that keeper Raguz was forced to parry to safety.

Jim Melissourgos was on the attack for Illawarra in the 72nd but his striking partner Tasevski could not put away the pass with the keeper exposed.

Four minutes later Penrith again had to scramble the ball off their own line as the Lions pressed forward relentlessly.

Penrith continued to attack, however, with Jon Grima making a huge run through the heart of the defence only to fire wide in the 80th.

In the 82nd Penrith made sure of al the points when Bob Casserly latched onto a Brad Collier cross and after taking the ball past two defenders was able to find the net with a lovely finish.

Panthers' stopper Kaan Davies was called upon towards the end of a tight contest to produce a brilliant tackle on a Lions' striker set to score.

Northern Spirit youth team player Steve Dimoski made his debut for Penrith in the match and did well.

The team backed up the next day at Arlington Oval against Dulwich Hill and managed a 0-0 draw.

Penrith suffered some fatigue after their game the previous evening, but created a few chances in a game that lacked much spark.

Penrith went into Friday's game without skipper David Fitzharris, Chris Ackerley, Danny Hinton and Brett Buckpitt, all injured the previous week.

Auburn United entertained the in-form Stanmore Hawks at Mona Park on Sunday and in a lively and absorbing contest the visitors prevailed 2-1, with teenager Peter Kypreos scoring both their goals.

Auburn fielded Can Celik who has been playing with Bankstown City until recently and he returned after previously playing with the club a couple of years ago.

Auburn were on top early with Deniz Keselik causing plenty of concern with his incisive runs into the attacking third.

In only the 6th minute Keselik set up Navid Varess, but the through pass was not put away.

Four minutes later Paul Kyprianou in the Stanmore goal was called upon to save well from Gurdal Ozcan after excellent lead up work from Alan Gordon.

Auburn introduced Anthony Kanaan, their latest capture from Northern Spirit, and the youngster rewarded the club with a goal in the 15th minute.

He was able to get on the end of a cross from Varess and beat the keeper with a simple looking finish.

Varess was also denied by the keeper in the 19th after making a penetrating run into the Stanmore penalty area.

A brief lapse in concentration saw Stanmore draw level in the 23rd when Peter Kypreos stunned the keeper with a superb finish from a tight angle after Soc Bakafoukas had nodded the ball across to him.

Then the same player took advantage of a ball not being cleared to ram home what proved to be the winner in the 29th, but it was a long way from the finish and there was much work left to do by both sides before this game was won or lost.

Haydar Arslan had been kept relatively out of the action for much of the first half and the two goals came much against the general run of play. It was a different story in the 49th when the keeper was forced to save from Eddie Briscoe after good lead up work by Theo Katsaros.

A minute later he was called upon again, this time to deny Bakafoukas.

As the game wore on Bakafoukas began to trouble the Auburn defence, while Con Paradisis almost caught Arslan out with a long range effort in the 57th.

Kypreos had a chance to notch a hat trick in the 78th but a fine diving save by Arslan ended that hope.

Auburn always looked dangerous but the Stanmore defence and keeper did a good job of containing them on a day when the visitors were fully wound up and reaped the rewards.

Hurstville City Minotaurs made mincemeat of Illawarra Lions at Hurstville Oval, goals from Angelo Kalamvokis allowing the home side to be two goals up by the 47th minute.

Further strikes from Michael Kladis and Tom Pontidas made it a 4-0 win at the finish.

Peter Papouthis provided some good lead up work on the right flank in the 15th minute to set up Angelo Kalamvokis for the snap shot that opened the scoring.

Kalamvokis then netted in the 47th with an individual strike from 25 yards out to cap his recent selection in the side. His brother Steve returned to the side after a lay off due to injury and was pressed into service after playing a full game in the reserves, lasting until the 75th minute.

Michael Kladis found the net well with a free kick from 25 yards in the 74th as Minotaurs got well on top.

Tom Pontidas scored a typical individual goal in the 82nd, getting past several players before tucking a cheeky low shot inside the post.

Eric Vassiliadis had a very strong game for the home side with and proved such a handful that an Illawarra player earned an early shower for falling foul of the dynamic striker and picking up a second yellow for a rash tackle in the first half.

There were many missed chances by the home side, none worse than Dario Fernandez in the 32nd minute when with the goal at his mercy the player put the ball over the bar.

It was the team's third straight win and they have all been against teams in the top five, a position they will soon occupy themselves if current form is maintained.

Moorebank and A C United, always deadly rivals, played out an exciting 0-0 draw with Devrin Husyenie almost grabbing the winner in the 80th minute with a curling shot that struck the post. A C United keeper Robbie Russo also had a strong game, tipping a shot from Sasha Djuric over the bar earlier in the match which was played on Sunday evening.

George were the visitors hoping to end a run of six games without defeat by the Rockdale Suns.

Saints' player-coach Paul Carter underwent a late fitness test before taking his place in a side that was missing Mark Brennan.

The early part of the game was punctuated by a succession of fouls, but while St George were well on top in terms of possession it was always Rockdale that looked the more dangerous as the counter attacked purposefully.

Spase Najdoski was able to send Goce Trposki on the path to goal in the 20th minute but a timely tackle from Roger Conroy prevented the youngster adding to his rapidly growing tally of goals at that point.

Ben Price was able to get in a good strike for St George in the 31st minute, with the ball just clearing the bar and the same player was required at the other end to clear a Najdoski header off the line.

Bill Petrovski was in sparkling touch and tested the keeper with a long range shot in the 42nd, having set up the earlier chance for Najdoski.

In the 43rd Rockdale opened the scoring from the penalty spot, Najdoski doing the honours, after a shot from Trposki had been handled on the line by a defender, when an early cross from Andrew McHardy had only been parried to feet by the Saints' keeper.

A minute later and Petrovski made it 2-0 when his cleverly flighted free kick from the edge of the area floated into the top right corner past a helpless Trinity Allen.

Rockdale laid siege to the St George goal in the opening period of the second half , Marc Santarossa heading a Najdoski shot off the line and Najdoski volleying over the bar around the same time.

Two St George players and one from Rockdale picked up second cautions in the game and were sent off, but the damage had already been done by that stage.

Goce Trposki has scored in every game since returning to the club from the Sydney United youth team and made sure this would be no exception when he got a glancing header past the keeper at the near post in the 78th minute from a measured cross from the left by Aleks Chumkovski.

Louis Dounis had a fine shot save by Mark Afif late in the game, but there was really no way back for St George and the derby honours rested clearly with Rockdale on this occasion.

ROUND FIFTEEN PREVIEW

This weekend St George meets Moorebank on Saturday at the Stadium where they remain unbeaten and after the loss to Rockdale they will be in a determined frame of mind to collect all the points.

Stanmore have a real test in meeting Rockdale at Arlington Oval the same day, both sides being in top form and looking for points to stake a claim to the title. Stanmore have toughened up this year and are hard to beat, but will need to watch the lively youngsters from Rockdale who have been banging away the goals this season. Stanmore should win.

A C United has a catch up game against Hurstville on Saturday, a tough assignment, but one they can win with their new players beginning to settle in now.

On Sunday a faltering Manly-Warringah have to contend with the much improved Hurstville City Minotaurs and while Dean Harding is expected back his partner Damian Rosenthal must be in doubt after pulling up sore in Bathurst.

The Dolphins are overdue to return to some form and the injection of Danny Townsend may tip the scales in their favour, given also that Hurstville will already have played once at the weekend.

Illawarra Lions have lost two on the trot but have not been outplayed. Their hosting of Dulwich Hill on the south coast is full of interest and it may not be the easy home win it looks like.

Dulwich have tightened up as the season has worn on and may be ready to produce their best here.

A C United are at Abruzzi Oval for the game against Bathurst 75 who are on a bit of a roll. A C have augmented their squad now, but have yet to win in quite a while. This is another that will be a tough one, after the game the previous day, but maybe they will be able to do enough this time.

Stanmore backs up from the Rockdale game with a match against Moorebank at Arlington Oval on the Monday and should collect the points, especially as Moorebank would have had a tough game themselves two days earlier.

ROUND THIRTEEN SUMMARY

HAJDUK HI-JACKED BY FRASER PARK AND ANTE JURIC LIFTS 'THE WALES'

The midweek action was fast and furious last Wednesday with a feast of good football on grounds only a few kilometres apart.

Fraser Park had a very good crowd in attendance for the crunch game against Hajduk Wanderers and the spectators were treated to an all action display by both sides.

Fraser scored two goals in the first half, the second of those only moments before the break and from the penalty spot to add to the excitement.

But Hajduk came out firing after the break and netted within six minutes to make it a highly charged second half.

Chances fell to both sides early on, with Chris Rasmus and Darren Camilleri both going close for Hajduk and Ante Zizic and Mathew Zec seeing headers miss narrowly for Fraser Park.

Fraser took the lead when Jon Flack's quick throw from the right led to the ball being laid back in his path by Sean Strang, which then allowed Flack to advance into the area and hit a firm drive into the top left corner of the net.

Fraser's second came after Zec was brought down on the left of the area by Camilleri, with Chris Senat also in attendance. Strang slotted away the spot kick to send the home team's fans into raptures. Tony Krslovic played a lovely lob in the path of Damien Brown in the 53rd minute which led to Brown shaking off two defenders - Charlie Morales and Zaya Jebraiel - before chipping the ball cleverly past Angelo Rodic to make it 2-1.

Jack Costello's low shot was also palmed away in the 56th from a free kick and J J Ellul steered a shot wide from close range in the 65th, for Hajduk, but Fraser defended well enough to restrict the visitors to very few real chances after that and the prize of top spot, at least for the time being, was celebrated in style as the final whistle blew.

Honours were even at the end of the University derby the same night where four goals were scored in the first 34 minutes by the two sides.

University of NSW shocked their visitors when newcomer, Sydney Olympic guest Ante Juric, whose brother Rob is a regular member of the side, opened the scoring after less than 30 seconds.

Juric was at it again in the 26th when he cut back inside from the right byline and drilled a left- footed shot the keeper who appeared unsighted.

In the 33rd the Sydney boys took a short corner and the ball was crossed in by Gavin Buddis to the far post where a throng of players were waiting and popular David Gill was able to head home.

Gordon Pitt levelled the scores in the 34th when his attempted cross flew into the roof of the net from just inside the area, wide on the right.

Sydney were without Rob Smithies, while NSW are looking to further strengthen the side with the inclusion of another Ericsson Cup star as a guest in future weeks.

The big derby at Hurstville Oval on Saturday saw Hajduk Wanderers edge out Hurstville ZSC by a single goal, supplied by Damien Brown, who latched onto a loose ball in the penalty area after a free kick had not been cleared in the 35th minute.

Hurstville included Eddy Bosnar in their starting line up, but having rested their skipper Bob Barisic and Robert Babaic showed much more zest in the second half when these players came on as substitutes.

Hurstville might have lost by another goal, but a strong shot from Shane Crampton from close range was headed off the goal line by Mario Mrkic in the 85th. An in-direct free kick by Jack Costello which sailed into the roof of the net was also ruled out as no other player got a touch on the ball.

The match between Uni of NSW and Hills United at David Phillips Oval, on Sunday, was an encounter that was always going to be lively. They started strongly, as they have in the last few games, and went one up in the 7th minute when Juric showed great skill to beat two defenders and cross from the left side to a hard running David Nedjely who headed the ball in firmly, to the home side's delight.

The students showed up strongly in the first half and could have been two or three up at the break. Penalty appeals and missed chances were the order of the day, but Hills were still confident after they had finished the half just one goal down.

The game became very scrappy and several bookings occurred, most notably Juric for dissent. This seemed to fire him up, however, and after constant attack, a Nick Jones cross from the left side was controlled by Ante. With his back to the goal, he seemed to take the Hills' defenders by surprise when he quickly turned and shot into the bottom left corner. The students were well on top for the next ten minutes and looked headed for their second win.

That was until the last fifteen minutes, when Hills lifted and began to dominate the midfield. Panic seemed to appear in the UNSW camp as the game underwent a turnaround.

When Ashley Matheson hit the cross bar with a well timed shot, it appeared to spark more enthusiasm within the team and the Hills players realised they could go on with the game.

The first goal came after the newly promoted 17 year old Daniel Nash released Steve Butcher, who crossed the ball back for Francois Finianos to score.

The next goal game from a good build up down the left side, when Daniel Calicetto, also promoted to first grade, held the ball up and then laid it off to Steve Butcher to equalise with a shot tucked just inside the near post.

There were also two further excellent chances for Hills to win the game, one with Steve Butcher only having to round the keeper in front of an open goal, but the keeper saved the opportunity at the second attempt and another when Mathieson beat the keeper and shottowards an open goal, only to be denied by a defender recovering and clearing off the goal line which left the scores level at two apiece.

In the first minute of the game at Cook Park, a fierce shot from Mount Pritchard's Ian Stoddart was palmed down by Mt. Druitt keeper Jeremy Wynne to the feet of Greg Baldock, but the Mounties' man's shot sailed over the bar.

After 11 minutes John Van Waard put a high ball over an advancing Matt Darwen to hit the inside of the cross bar & drop into the goal to give visitors Mount Druitt the lead.

In the 20th minute Mt. Druitt gave away a penalty and the reliable Franco Cosentino, himself once a Mount Druitt player, slotted the ball away smoothly to make the score one apiece.

The Mounties scored the winner in the 62nd minute when a Franco Cosentino shot deflected off the keeper nicely for Martin Canova to put it away.

At Scots Field Arncliffe and Sydney University appeared headed for an exciting, if scoreless, draw, but spectators leaving early would have reckoned without the barnstorming finish that ensued.

An even first half had seen Chris Bowman hit the bar in the 15th minute with a free kick from 25 yards out and right in front. Then veteran Don Brown's 35th minute volley hit the post and it was evident that as the game wore on the students' superior fitness would see them gradually get on top.

Arncliffe had a good chance towards the end when Louis Klimovski volleyed just wide from a ball cut back to him by Leon Markovski in the 80th

After this let-off the Uni boys took the lead with less than a minute of regulation time remaining. Debutant and substitute David Bromhead, received the ball from Gordon Pitt, who had sent him on to confront the keeper and the youngster did the rest, by drilling the ball just inside the near post.

But joy turned to despair as four minutes into stoppage time Arncliffe drew level once more. Matt Craw tipped a shot onto the bar and Robert Todorovski was on hand to put away the rebound.

Sydney District and Greystanes played out a 1-1 draw at Camdenville Oval where District's Marco Quintao's 42nd minute opener was nullified by a strike from Andrew Cauchi in the 57th.

Fraser Park recorded their second 5-0 win in seven days when winning at Blick Oval against Belmore Hercules.

A penalty by Sean Strang was all that stood between the sides at half time, the 16th minute goal being added to by Matthew Zec after the break and then a brace from substitute Peter Andricopoulos in the 80th and 84th gave them a nice margin before Ante Zizic won a tussle with the keeper to slot away the fifth in the 85th minute of what turned into a one sided contest.

Kennard Cup

The last few years have seen significant changes at Sydney University Soccer Football Club. A rise up the ladder at long last places the club at the same level as University of New South Wales. 1967 was the last time Sydney University was in the same division as their UNSW rivals and the club from the countries oldest University is keen to make up for lost time.

They will have the chance to do so when they take on UNSW in the second Round Division 2 clash at University No 1 Oval on the Queens Birthday Public Holiday in a game that doubles as the Kennard Cup.

1999 sees the re-introduction of the Kennard Cup, a trophy that for many years was competed for annually between the two Universities with the victor claiming both the prestigious trophy and indeed bragging rights.

Last Wednesday night at the Village Green, UNSW the two teams battled to a hard fought 2-2 draw in the first leg of the Cup.

The Kennard Cup not only is a prestigious symbol in University circles but it also is of great historic significance dating back to the very earliest days of the fledgling NSW Soccer Federation. Donated by and named after William Kennard, an official with both the Federation and the Hakoah club, the cup was the Federation's inaugural knockout cup commencing in 1957.

However, when Ampol became the sponsors in 1959 a new cup was struck and the life of the Kennard Cup seemed to be over before it had began. However on the suggestion of the great Socceroo coach Joe Vlatsis, the Kennard Cup was donated to the two Universities to be competed for annually.

A lively tradition continued from 1960 to 1986 between the two Unis with even Macquarie University being a guest competitor for the cup for a brief period. However in the late 80's the gulf between the two Universities evidently became too great (UNSW claiming ten straight victories between 1977 and 1986), interest in the competition dissipated and it was subsequently done away with.

The newly strong Sydney Uni boys are keen to address this imbalance and all indicators point to a lively clash on Monday.

Round 11 review

G13's

There were wins for the top two in the division and a draw for third placed Macquarie Sports, which meant the top three stayed in the same positions after round 11.

Macquarie were unable to grab the three points at CSI Schofields after being held to a 0-0 draw, but leaders the Ku-ring-gai Association had an easy 6-0 win at the Granville Association.

Their lead is still two points from the Nepean Association though, who did it even easier with an 8-0 victory over bottom club Parramatta City.

Fourth played fifth at Cook Park as Hajduk Wanderers visited the team one place below them, Mt Pritchard, but it was the home side who took all three points and also that fourth spot after a 3-1 win.

Only a point separated Hawkesbury City and Moorebank Sports going into their clash at Bensons Lane, but Moorebank stretched that to four points after a good 1-0 away win.

The days other game saw the Camden Tigers defeat Mt Druitt 1-0, and in the process take Mt Druitt's sixth spot on the ladder.

G14's

The top four stayed in the same positions after round 11, as leaders Macquarie Sports kept up their two point advantage with a 2-0 win over CSI Schofields. Mt Pritchard remains in second after defeating Hajduk Wanderers 4-2 at home, and it's the Nepean Association in third after their 5-1 win at Parramatta City.

The Granville Association are still in fourth despite losing to the Ku-ring-gai Association 1-0, who move into fifth.

Near the bottom two of the clubs, the Camden Tigers and Mt Druitt fought out a 0-0 draw, while Hawkesbury City ensured that Moorebank remain at the bottom after a 3-0 win.

G15's

In the G15's the top teams maintained their good form, with leaders Hajduk Wanderers winning 3-1 at Mt Pritchard. Parramatta City is second despite being unbeaten, and they edged out the Nepean Association 3-2.

Mt Pritchard remain third despite its loss to Hajduk, while the Ku-ring-gai Association moved level on points with a 3-2 win at the Granville Association.

Moorebank in fifth had a good 3-1 away victory over Hawkesbury City, while Macquarie Sports are next after a comfortable 6-1 win at home to CSI Schofields.

Like in the G14's the Camden Tigers and Mt Druitt Town drew 0-0, a result which gives Mt Druitt 12 points from their 11 games.

G16's

The Nepean Association maintained their five point lead at the top of the table after defeating Parramatta City 5-2, but after losing 2-0 to the Camden Tigers Mt Druitt dropped from second to fourth. Adding insult to injury the Tigers were the ones who moved into second spot, while Hajduk Wanderers also moved up a place after a 1-0 win at Mt Pritchard.

Mt Pritchard remain in fifth despite that result, but Macquarie Sports closed the gap with a 6-0 win over CSI Schofields. Hawkesbury City picked up only its second win of the season with a 1-0 win over Moorebank Sports, while the Ku-ring-gai Association moved above the Granville Association after a 4-0 away win at Garside Park.

G12's

Stanmore are still top of the table despite not playing, but their lead is now down to four points after the Illawara Lions moved above Hills United into second, after a 5-1 win against Hurstville City.

Hills slipped to third after losing 3-0 at Macquarie Sports, who are in fourth with that win. In such a tight division three points can mean the difference of about four places, and at the bottom Mt Druitt continued to move away to safety with a good 5-1 win over Mt Pritchard.

AC united had a 3-0 win away at Moorebank Sports, while Hajduk Wanderers and Hawkesbury City shared the points in a 1-1 draw at Hajduk Stadium
